New York and Paris Fashions.

The season when anumer styles pushed and could contain a part in their desire to any other than a part in their desire to get to the frown and patterns in trime and solors in trocks, hosiers, and the colors in trocks, hosiers, and the horizon and the leaves who hurs a dealer in trocks, hosiers, and the horizon and horizon. The horizon and the horizon and the horizon and horizon and the horizon and horizon and the horizon and horizon. The horizon and horizon and horizon and horizon and the horizon and horizon and the horizon and hore foreign manufacturers are sending it to this country already for wear next sum mer and American manufacturers are making up exquisite designs in this charming color. These are all good indications that blue will be stylish and it is smillcleatly stylish now to make it profitable to buy and wear such a gown. Brown and tan have had such a run that it is improbable they will be nuch worn by the swell set this coming winter. Cark green and other shades of that color appear to promise well in what is known us the popular trade, among merchants. That is green for winter wear has passed the exclusive stage and is thrown upon the market broadcast. If you want to be real swell and exclusive wait a bit before thinking of fall contumes to last more than one year, for several colors are being experimented with and the prevailing siple is not fully determined.

Plaid sliks of bright colors are going to be stylish, especially for trimming ports
to be stylish especially for trimming ports to come, but braids will be the swell trimming for winter and fall since Parts had decreed that braids are the thing, and so many exquisite varieties of healds have been and are boing brought out for trimming of every description.

For the North tits will be a far winter.
Fur will be used as trimming men every thing and will speece with braid, and possibly, as last rear, with lace A chill
